Perry Wins Suit For $1,599 Against Boston Shoe Firm

Following a five days' trial, judgment was taken up in the reading of correspondence between the plaintiff and defendant, the jury in the suit of George H. Perry vs. the Boston Shoe Plant Company, of Boston, returned a verdict of $1,599 for Perry late on Tuesday afternoon.

The suit was for a 25 per cent. division of the net profits of a shoe department in one of the leading Whitehall street stores, which was conducted by Perry as manager for the Plant Company.

The case was brought in May, 1911, and was argued in the court room of the first floor of the Georgia Baptist Mission building, before Judge John H. Hill, Jr., of the Superior Court.

Mr. Perry is one of the best known shoe men in Atlanta. He is connected with the J. P. Allen Company.

COLEY GOES TO COURT FOR TRIAL

Negro to Plead Guilty to Misdemeanor Indictment Charging Aid to Frank in Slaying.

Jim Coley, the State's star witness against Leo M. Frank and an admitted accessory to the fact in the murder of Mary Phagan, was taken from the Tower Wednesday morning to await the calling of his case in the court of Judge Ben H. Hill.

Two indictments were found against Coley by the Fulton County Grand Jury. Both charged him with being accessory after the fact, but one of the indictments involved only a misdemeanor while the other constituted a felony.

Coley was arrested on the charge of being accessory to the murder of Mary Phagan, and was taken to the Tower Wednesday morning to await the calling of his case in the court of Judge Ben H. Hill.

BAPTIST MISSION WORKER TELLS OF THE AWAKENING OF THE ORIENT

FIREPOINTS RULED NO SPOT FOR BOAT

Brayles Lauds Belligerents for Settling Differences With Fists. Tapers Praise With Fines.

Lecturing the combatants for choosing so public a place as Five Points in which to settle their differences. Recorder Brayles Wednesday fined Police Commissioner A. B. King his brother-in-law and trusty for $2. W. Greenway $10.75 apiece.

Recorder Brayles, in a philosophical manner in which combatants should settle disputes, commended the commissioner and Greenway for having used their fists only for settling their differences. He said that the rest of the community in settling their disputes should follow the example of the commissioner and Greenway.

But the prize was reserved for the winner, and the prize was a fine of $10.75.

Guests of the Adair on Peachtree Hurry From Rooms in Night Attire.

Guests of the Adair Hotel, No. 205 Peachtree street, fled down fire escape and through smoke-filled hallways in their nightgowns and nightdresses early Wednesday morning when fire broke out in the first floor of the four-story structure.

Persons on the upper floors were awakened by the screams of fright and rushing of feet below, and without attempting to clothe themselves saw their property rushed pell-mell from the buildings.

The fire did small damage and was extinguished before the fire department arrived. It originated in the kitchen in the room of Walter Williams, a real estate operator. Matches of Williams' guests there are said to have been lit by heat from a stove against which the woman had been sitting.

In an instant the clothing was ablaze, and smoke filled the room.

When Mrs. Williams returned from breakfast, she found the door to the room open and entered in a cloud of smoke. She screamed and ran back through the building shouting to the guests to escape.

She was followed as the smoke poured into the room of Williams, where she was sitting. She was caught up by the smoke and fell into the arms of a man who was sitting next to her. She was then carried to the street by the man.

Deacons' Ordination Deferred to Sunday

GAZAN SURE OF NEW TRIAL FOR LEO M. FRANK

Interview in Savannah Press Declares Attorney's Visit to Cell Convinced Him.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 12.—That Leo Frank will get a new trial when he comes up before the State Supreme Court was the declaration of a member of the Georgia Bar Association today. The member, who is a prominent lawyer, said that he had just returned from a visit to Leo Frank in the State Prison, and that he was convinced that Frank was innocent of the crime for which he was imprisoned.

The Makers of Wooltex Have Sent Us 250 Beautiful Suits to Dispose of at $25---Regular $35, $40 and $50 Suits

Thursday Is the Day We Are Going to Sell Them

Once each season the makers of Wooltex Suits afford us a sale of this kind, where we may dispose of the higher priced suits at less than their regular value.

This is their contribution for the present season---250 of their best suits---of regular $35, $40 and $50 values to sell at the popular price of $25.

It is a collection, too, that proves the versatility of the Wooltex style bureau. There are conservative styles for older women, extreme styles for younger women, and smart, jaunty styles for misses. And every model is one that would stamp the wearer as a person of discrimination and taste in dress.

Some Fur-Trimmed Suits

Included are some elegant Fur-Trimmed Suits that are particularly appropriate for Thanksgiving. Suits that you can wear on that joyous occasion or any time thereafter with an appearance of distinction and a feeling of satisfaction, because you are perfectly sure of being well dressed.

The styles of these suits are especially pleasing, and make an instant appeal. Charming and becoming cutaway coats, some blouse effect; stylish, beautiful draped and tunic skirts. Some of the coats have the smart Glengary collar, and there are various fascinating trimming touches of velvet here and there. And note this range of materials from which you may choose: Serges, Cheviots, Bedfords, Crepe Bedfords, Eponges, Matelasses, Wide-wale Diagonals---and you will recall the makers of Wooltex Suits use nothing but the best all-wool materials. The color tones include, navy, Copenhagen, wine, prune, greens, taupe, mahogany and black.

Every Wooltex Suit Is Guaranteed

The materials, the linings, the tailoring, the findings in Wooltex Suits are all of such superior quality, the makers guarantee every suit for two full seasons' satisfactory service.

Thursday will be the best day to buy, because on that day you may buy $35, $40 and $50 Wooltex Suits at $25.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Beilis Acquitted

Russia is the Part of Great Coward Lacking the Courage to Commit Official Murder

Lacking courage to MURDER directly and officially ONE Jew, Russia conspires to cause the murder of thousands in an infamous, cowardly, judicial decision.

Being the unfortunate Jew selected as a scapegoat by the Czar's Government, goes free.

At least, the protest of civilized humanity has succeeded in accomplishing that the poor, friendless, defenseless, Jewish workman should be executed under the charge of the most "foul" and revolting blood guilt.

And he would have been convicted and officially murdered without doubt had not civilization in better lands cried against the outrage and awakened in official Russia the one thing that Russia fears—THE CONTEMPT OF CIVILIZATION.

Beilis is acquitted and freed, and for that all good men and women will be fervently thankful.

His judicial murder would have been a horrible outrage, not only a crime against him as an individual, but a crime against his race and his religion.

For the Russian idea was to murder him and with him murder the good name of all the Jews, and to increase with official endorsement of a vile slander the bitter hatred and cruel persecution already existing. But the intended official crime was stopped by public protest. Russian brutality that has committed so many murders, fomented so many pogroms, lacked the courage to proceed before the eyes of the world with the official killing of ONE individual Jew.

Beilis escapes from the paw of Russia, and that brutal beast, in this one case at least, retires growing and baffled.

Unfortunately, however, the Government that did not dare to murder officially the individual Jew Beilis has done as much as it could and as much as it dared to murder the reputation of Jews throughout the empire, and to increase the hatred in which the Jews are held by the ignorant, drunken Russians and to add fuel to the flame of persecution and outrage.

The verdict which declares Beilis innocent—because Russia did not dare to execute him—declares also that the murder of which he was accused was a "ritual murder"—that is to say, the Russian Government in this infamous decision seeks to put upon the Jews and their religion all responsibility for the murder charged against Beilis.

The statement is officially made by the court which did not dare to murder the accused individual, that the Jewish religion was responsible for the murder of Yushinsky, that the blood had been spilled to use in their religious ceremonies.

The world knows how infamously false this accusation is. Seven centuries ago Pope Innocent IV denounced the infamously lie. And over and over the vile accusation brought to excuse the torture and robbery of the Jews has been disproved.

It is to be hoped, and we may believe that the civilized world has heard of the last infamous charge of this kind in a court of law.

Russia in the face of civilization has not dared to murder the innocent Jew accused of a crime that he has never committed. And if Russia has not dared this time, she will not dare in the future, we may believe.

Unhappily, in Russia, at least, many Jews must suffer because of this infamous Beilis case.

The Russian Black Hundred, the official haters and persecutors of the Jews, have been cheated of their individual victim. They are not to have the satisfaction of murdering Beilis.

But the ignorant peasants will be told that the crime was committed by Jews unknown, and many will suffer.

However, the plans of the Russian Government have been thwarted. The desperate effort to convict Beilis, backed by perjury, conspiracy and cunning, has failed. Every man who has helped to protect that far-off, friendless, defenseless workman from the bloody creature thirsting for his blood must feel doubly grateful for the privilege of having said a word in defense of human decency.

The American Israelite in its issue of October 30 says the foremost among those who unspurningly denounced the Czar and his advisers and Russian officialdom for seeking to stigmatize their Jewish subjects as guilty of ritual murder, have been the various Hearst papers in New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco and elsewhere. They have not hesitated to speak out plainly and forcibly, and if what the various editors have been saying has no effect in Russia—as it probably will not—still they will have served a purpose, by calling the attention of a large number of reading and thinking people to the brutal attack which is being done at Kiev. William Randolph Hearst is entitled to the gratitude of all right thinking men.

This expression of thanks is appreciated, but it should be extended to many newspapers, to many organizations and to many individuals. For the protest against the proposed treaty has been world-wide, and it must surely have been heard not the Hearst newspapers early in the day and with such energy as they possessed taken up the crusade.

RIDING FOR A FALL!

Christmas Is Coming! Begin to Shop Early

By DOROTHY DIX

DO NOT realize, beloved sisters, that the Christmas tide is almost upon us, and the festive season with its ritual of giving and receiving is just around the corner. I am writing these few lines to urge you to go and do your Christmas shopping right away. Don't put it off. Push on this day, while the shops are comparatively empty, before the multitudes are worn and hurried when they are reduced to hordes of nerves and temper, and will you are still in command of your own sane sense.

Don't put off buying your Christmas gifts until the week before Christmas when you, and a million other women will be affected with homicidal mania, and all are ready to buy.

Remember I am writing these few lines to urge you to go and do your Christmas shopping right away. Don't put it off. Push on this day, while the shops are comparatively empty, before the multitudes are worn and hurried when they are reduced to hordes of nerves and temper, and will you are still in command of your own sane sense.

to leave the street who will send me something, and when I've got to send something up?

And you won't be able to remember a single fact or fancy, or name, or location, or habit, or expression of a single human being you know. And you'll go home and have nervous prostration, and give it to the clerk, and with you, you'll have the Rube and saved your nerves and your clothes and your time and the wear and tear on your disposition.

Now I am one of those who believe in Christmas giving. It is a joy to the generous to give, and it is salutary for the things to be made to give up at least once a year. But the thing that makes Christmas a season of torment and wear and that leaves us feeling as if we had been run through a stone crusher is because we must bustle our preparations in time, and because we don't bring any common sense to bear on the preparation.

Wherefore I urge, gentle, inspire, and otherwise request you to bear in mind your own comfort, and the good of that brave little army of working women, the housewives, and do your shopping early. It's a time to show that you're a real big sister who feels for the little sister behind the counter.

Remember I am writing these few lines to urge you to go and do your Christmas shopping right away. Don't put it off. Push on this day, while the shops are comparatively empty, before the multitudes are worn and hurried when they are reduced to hordes of nerves and temper, and will you are still in command of your own sane sense.

Being a Success as a Husband

Know Your Wife and Children--Make the Place Where You Live a Home--Don't Haggle Over Money.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(Copyright, 1918.)

WHAT are you doing in the line of making a success of yourself as a husband?

But just how far does that go toward making a satisfactory home life?

In this material age and plane of existence, financial independence is necessary for a foundation of a home.

There can be little happiness or contentment where there is worry and debt, and where the expenses drive out every impulse toward beauty and growth.

For this talk is not meant for the man furnished with such facilities.

It is meant for the myriads of men in comfortable homes, whose wives move in cultured circles and whose children attend good schools and colleges.

You who know that these words apply to you are on the winning stand. (To-morrow your wife takes the stand.)

Just what are you doing to make your home life a success? Are you giving any time to be coming acquainted with your wife or children?

What do you know about your children's thoughts, and ideas, and occupations, aside from the report of teachers?

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

What do you really know about your wife?

If you are leaving her to find pleasure with her friends, even if these can be afforded, is it your duty to render an account of its use than should the husband to account for his daily expenditure.

freedom to come and go as she pleases, perhaps it might be wiser for you to investigate a little further.

Not only care and freedom are essential to a "joy riding" life. It is all very innocent at first, but familiarity breeds contempt of conventions, and the wife whose husband is too busy to take a few hours each week to take a few days in the season, to accompany her on her drives, and who feels he is quite liberal and kind in allowing her to take her car and go where she chooses, sometimes finds to find he is rubbing under the shadow of an ugly scandal.

Are you giving your wife an independent power of check book? Or are you making her wait for every cent she receives and expecting her to account for it all afterward?

No woman can be happy under such conditions.

They are the conditions of a slave.

Every wife should have her own purse for her personal use, for dress, for entertaining friends, for charities. However small that purse may be, she should train herself to be self-reliant and she should no more be relied upon to render an account of its use than should the husband to account for his daily expenditure.

Unchildish Pleasures Dwarf the Mind

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "The Etiquette of New York To-Day."

IN these days there is too much bewilderment in a variety of amusements and great danger in confusing pleasure with excitement and making it a mere excitement. No matter what the cost may be, in health, time, or money, pleasure is pursued with a sustained effort and every worthy of better aims, and in spite of difficulties, hardships and dangers to life and limb, it may be said, to manners and morals.

For with this rage for amusement has come the temptation to lower the standard of character. This means to be the betting sin of society. It is the ruin of the young generation as well as the older. In fact, the danger is especially to the young people.

Youth is the time for gaining habits, fine standards. Parents can give an enduring happiness to their children by keeping them unhampered by too many pleasures, too many opportunities, too much time going, too many rushing trips abroad, too lavish an expenditure of money.

Unchildish pleasures really dwarf the mind, the will and the emotions. There is no reason why children should see many plays, even though the plays may be fair, or enjoyments, or that they should have the indulgence of very extravagant clothes, even if these can be afforded, that they should spend with their parents through foreign countries.

In a motor and fancy trip have seen all there is to be seen in the world.

Pleasures in amusements can be easily cultivated and will prove a blessing through life. An attraction in character is to keep the eager, unspoiled sweetness of heart that finds enjoyment in simple things. Intense pleasures mean much to everyone. The right use of pleasure, not the abuse of it, will make the proper balance in life. The search for the startling, the sensational, the extravagant and novel is the order of the day. Amusements have lost spontaneity. They are planned too far ahead, they are rushing trips abroad, too lavish an expenditure of money.

Another thing that is ruinous to recreation is competition.

Competitive games of tennis, football, which are charming physically, are injurious. The true significance of amusement is not to provoke contest, but to give pleasure and to give pleasure to the mind. The wish to excel others or to give prizes has no place in recreation.

"Do you think it wrong to make bets with men?" asked a girl recently.

Being in a form of gambling, a chance of winning some money, it is not wrong to bet. It is a decided lowering of right standards. The high-minded girl who says, "I don't care to bet for myself that bet or card playing for money shall never be in my public drinking trough as by other big cities, and I have actually seen the teams trying to drink from mud puddles along the street. If there were some way of imposing a fine for the unnecessary loading of the animals the city would soon collect enough money to provide watering troughs all over the city. It seems that our good friends at the head of the Men and Religion Forward Movement could use their time and influence in a good advantage here as much as in some other things they are worrying about."

LOCKER CLUBS.

Editor The Georgian: I have been intensely pained by the recent Atlanta agitation against locker clubs and similar places. I have tried in every part of the country and have experienced conditions in Atlanta, I believe, that are absolutely prohibited by the law books. Under present conditions in Atlanta, I believe the city has come very near to solving this perplexed question. There is less drunkenness here than in any city I have ever visited. There is less political corruption here as a result of the whiskey trade than in any city I know. Then why change our "locker clubs"?

Letters From Readers of The Georgian

A PUBLIC DEFENDER.

Editor The Georgian: I am a prosecutor and very interested suggestions of Mr. E. A. Jones, appearing in your issue of Saturday, relative to County Attorneys, might be added to in the following respects with great benefit to our procedure, the enforcement of law and the proper protection of our people.

In abolishing the present office of Solicitor General with its too large field of several counties, let there be in each county instead not only a Public Prosecutor, but a Public Defender as well. This would assure every person accused of crime an equal opportunity with the State of making proper presentation of his case in the trial court.

Then let it be further provided that should the defendant engage additional counsel that the State expense similar assistance at an expense equal to that of the defendant, the cost of this additional counsel on both sides to be paid by the losing party, that is, by the State if the defendant is acquitted, and by the defendant if he is convicted.

This again would equality be assured, in so far as possible, between the State and the defendant in the presentation of their case, and the tremendous advantage enjoyed by the wealthy criminal under our present procedure would be done away with.

This system would inevitably abolish the trial of important criminal cases, many of the defendants encountered at present. It would work justice in making the guilty person pay the added cost of his own conviction and in relieving the innocent accused of the burden of expense he is now invariably forced to bear in establishing his innocence.

Both prosecutor and defender should, of course, receive equal compensation, and when the defendant does not acquiesce, attorneys he should be required to make a good bond to the State to indemnify a legal such additional cost should he be convicted. The counsel engaged by defendants should be required to make affidavit as to the amount of their compensation.

Respectfully, R. G. B.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Editor The Georgian: I have read with much interest the editorial of the Heart papers and fully realize the importance they carry and it is for that reason I am bringing this matter to your attention.

For the past two months I have been in Atlanta and have been very much surprised to find such ill treatment of horses and mules. There is no other city in the United States that would tolerate the cruelty that is inflicted on teams in Atlanta. To fully prove this it is only necessary to stand on Marietta street or any busy street and listen to the cracking of the whip which, if you did not see, would lead you to believe that the battle of Atlanta was still going on, and you will find that nearly every mule is covered with welts from his hind quarters to his ears. Some I have seen with the flesh cut by the whip. If they were balky or stubborn there would be some case for this, but these negro drivers instead the whip or not actually when the teams are doing their very best it seems to be the delight of the drivers to torture their teams as much as possible.

Evidently there is no R. F. A. in this city, but it seems there ought to be some way of punishing these drivers. Another thing I have noticed is that there are no public drinking troughs as by other big cities, and I have actually seen the teams trying to drink from mud puddles along the street. If there were some way of imposing a fine for the unnecessary loading of the animals the city would soon collect enough money to provide watering troughs all over the city. It seems that our good friends at the head of the Men and Religion Forward Movement could use their time and influence in a good advantage here as much as in some other things they are worrying about."

RAILROADS WILL GIVE SHRINERS LOW RATES

Representatives of Thirty Lines Pledge Aid in Making Lodge Meet Here Big Success.

More than thirty railroads have joined with Forest Asher and Fred J. Dixon, president of Vauxh Kempt and chairman of the finance committee, in the movement to make the 1914 convention of the United Shriners to be held in Atlanta next year, the greatest gathering of lodge men ever assembled in the United States.

Representatives of the roads pledged their cooperation at a dinner held here last night. The roads involved are the Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and Tennessee, and active operations to extend and care for the thousands of pilgrims who will be here are under way.

The railroad men assured Mr. Asher and Mr. Dixon that the rates to Atlanta from all parts of the United States will be as low as it is possible to make them. The roads also pledged to give the pilgrims special rates for the trip and to make the rates as low as possible.

Specials To Be Given Attention. Arrangements would be made to handle the special pilgrims without delay of inconvenience to the passengers. The roads also pledged to make the rates as low as possible.

Mr. Asher declared after the dinner that the outlook for a successful convention is better than ever before, and expressed the gratification at the interest the railroads are taking in the matter.

"There will be no trouble at all in caring for the 30,000 pilgrims who will be here," Mr. Asher said. "Our plans already are taking definite shape and with the aid and cooperation of the railroads, we are assured nothing remains but to work out the details of the convention."

The convention without doubt will be the largest gathering of men ever assembled in the United States. Sixteen states already have been invited to send delegates to the convention.

WELTNER MADE PROBATION OFFICER

Noted Prison Reformer Hopes to Accomplish Much in New County Position.

Philip Weltner, the noted Georgia prison reform advocate, who tried the life of a convict to get his point of view, has been appointed adult probation officer for Fulton County by Superior Court Judge Ben Hill. The office was created by an act of the last General Assembly and Mr. Weltner will assume his duties at once.

Speaking of his plan of work, Mr. Weltner said:

"In the old days there were no laws, but there were bad men known to friends of the court. That's the way I started my work. I was a friend of the court. I am to advise the court after every trial of the severity of punishment of an offender."

"I don't know where my office will be yet, but I hope of the early likely will be at the county jail."

"It is my hope to make the adult probation system of Fulton County a model for Georgia and the South, just as the Juvenile Court system of Fulton County has become a model for the South."

"The aim of the probation system is to make the legal machinery and society rather than a means of revenge on individuals."

Policeman Reports Partner Went to Sleep; Reprimanded

There was an unusual termination Tuesday night to the trial of Policemen H. H. Stover and J. J. Jamison. Stover reported that he had been asleep on his beat, while Jamison, his partner, kept him awake. Stover was reprimanded because he wanted a new partner. Jamison desired the charges and also asked for a new partner.

Under instructions from the Police Commission, Chief Beavers examined Jamison and reprimanded him. The Commission Tuesday night appointed a board of officers to examine the charges and also asked for a new partner.
